Details of the incident

Heard banging and shouting outside. I looked out of my kitchen window and saw James Smith banging and kicking his own front door. He was shouting at the person inside to open the door then at one point he shouted very loudly “open the door you’re dead. A woman inside kept screaming “go away you bastard”. He then picked up a brick and threw it at the hall window. The window smashed and he tried to get in. My partner John then called the police. The police arrived and James was then taken away.
